Provincetown's National Seashore Park Dunes

The extraordinary Provincetown dunes are part of the Cape Cod National Seashore, which stretches the eastern edge of the Cape Cod coast line from Chatham to Provincetown. The park protects this unique but fragile ecological system of the dunes to ensure the preservation of its beauty and the natural habitat living in it.

The dunes have changed throughout the centuries. Over the years the shape of the dunes shift with the wind, rain, and tide. Early settlers found used the trees from the dune's forest to build in Provincetown. As a result, became more a more barren landscape. When Thoreau made his famous walk down the Cape shoreline, he experienced a spectacular expanse of sand.

On your tour, you'll learn about the efforts of conservationists and the National Seashore Park Service to stabilize the ecosystem. At Art's Dune Tours, we share the respect for this landscape and the responsibility to protect it. We only travel on roads and visit areas approved by the park service.
